

Course Components

- Video-on-Demand Sessions
There are four audio-graphic lectures delivered via video streaming media.
- Class Readings
There are class readings from two course textbooks.
- Class Conference Calls
There are three scheduled class-wide conference calls for discussions among the whole class and the instructor.
- Interactive Learning Community
A Virtual Classroom is provided to host the online discussions of posted questions.

"Holistic Stewardship"

by Sandy Lindahl

This course illuminates the reach of stewardship practices far into our personal and societal lives. "Holistic Stewardship" involves recognizing our choices and making decisions that contribute to the wholeness of our lives and those of others, even of all Creation. Moving beyond the traditional questions of using our "time, talent and treasure" this content raises questions about cultural assumptions, compares economic models, and considers the global implications of personal and communal decisions.

"The nature of enough" alludes to the difficult questions about determining sufficiency for all of life to be in balance. The typical tug-of-war between the contrasting lenses of abundance and scarcity is an important factor as people determine what is "enough" in any given situation.

As Christians, our faith compels us to love one another and to look after all living beings and this planet we share.

Course Fee: $49.95

Registration is open NOW!

Participate in this course from anywhere with nothing more than a browser and a broadband Internet connection.

For complete information and to register online, please visit www.transformingthechurch.org.